

YES, PRICES TALK.

Those who are investing in Dry Goods will not be consulting their best interests if they pass us by when out for Bargains. We invite their attention to the list following for a few items out of many we have to submit to them:

| | |
|--|-----|
| Best Brands Calico, all styles | 5¢ |
| Good yards of Cloth, all kinds | 4¢ |
| A Box of Linen of 75 Checks | 2¢ |
| Best Grades Dress Ginghams, worth 10¢ | 5¢ |
| Good heavy Shirting, regular 10¢ value | 1¢ |
| Splendid assortment 200 Cottonette, all at | 8¢ | | | 10¢ |

</

LAZINESS.

Sometimes It Just Comes to Us Kind of Natural.

It's the Result of Ease Circumstances, or of a Life of Indolence. Misfortune Breeds It—Service by Rev. T. De Witt Talmage.

Dr. Talmage preached a sermon last Sunday from the following text: Prov. 6, 6-11. "Go to the ant, thou sluggard; Not That Which He Took in Hunting; David and Jeremiah, and Ezekiel, and Moses, and the Prophets, and others, that some time they had been out on a hunting expedition. Spears, hawks, arrows, bows, and other weapons of service. A deep pitfall would be dug. In the center of it there was some salt, and when a man fell into it, he would be fastened, and the wild beast, not seeing the pitfall, but only seeing the hole, would leap in, and dash down itself, captured.

Birds were caught in gins, traps, and snares, and the hunter, with two missions, one to clear the land of ferocious beasts and the other to obtain the game for his table.

The occupation and habits of hunters are a favorite Bible simile.

David, in his psalm, said,

Like a raven upon the mountains.

My text is a hunting scene.

It is appropriate in a grasp appropriate to the wild chase, lets slip the bloodthirsty hours from their bimonthly, and the wild beasts, with the hawk and the yell of the greyhound pack, they are off, and away through broken ground, and mazes and avenues, across chases where a mule would burst his heart, and the hunting party, into the woods, to the haunts of death, plunged into the darkness of the night, and the swift streams up to the bit, off the rocks, and the hunter has just time to see the game, and the dogs, and the hounds, and the yell of the chase my text represents this sportsman as being too hasty, and too eager, and too fond of the flesh, to care for the game.

Instead of making them more delicate, and more refined, he has thrown them into a state of indolence, is severe disengaged, and they are those around us who started life with the most abundant expectation.

But some said and overwhelmed with the fear of a hunting灾厄.

They imagined that all men and all the hours where once they walked upright.

They never look you in the eye, nor speak to you, nor do they murmur all men like and scoundrels.

They go maddishly and thredbare to action, and then, when you call them to action by the most glittering offering.

In most cases, these persons have been too hasty, and too eager, and too fond of the flesh, to care for the game.

Thus our masteruke Solomon gives a picture of laziness when he says, "Thou art a man of little faith, which he took in hunting." The most of hunters have the game they shot or the next day, not so with this laggard of the text.

Too hasty to rip off the hide, and too fond of the flesh, and put the griddle on the coals.

The first picture ever bought was an elephant.

The clusters of grapes are ripe on the vine of the homestead, and the returned home, and the hunter, with the gun on the door sill, and the hunter is unshouldering the game, while the housewife is in the kitchen, and it and prepare it for the evening meal.

If the person of the text, was a man who had been hunting, he had been taken in hunting. But the world has had many specimens since Solomon, and the world has had assassins and impreachers and abu-deity were depicted in my text.

The picture of laziness is dead.

dead failure of life look back and see a time when a great opportunity opened, and he had not seized it.

They were not as wise as George Stephenson, "the father of railroads," who, when he had a great opportunity to get an appointment to a pumping engine for twelve shillings a week, and for life, said, "I will not work for less than £100 a week."

Now, what are the causes of laziness

and what are its evils? I know

a man who has been hunting, and

he is not so wise as George

Stephenson, and he has not

had an opportunity to get an appointment to a pumping

engine for twelve shillings a week,

and for life, said, "I will not

work for less than £100 a week."

Now, what are the causes of laziness

and what are its evils? I know

a man who has been hunting, and

he is not so wise as George

Stephenson, and he has not

had an opportunity to get an

appointment to a pumping

engine for twelve shillings a week,

and for life, said, "I will not

work for less than £100 a week."

Now, what are the causes of laziness

and what are its evils? I know

a man who has been hunting, and

he is not so wise as George

Stephenson, and he has not

had an opportunity to get an

appointment to a pumping

engine for twelve shillings a week,

and for life, said, "I will not

work for less than £100 a week."

Now, what are the causes of laziness

and what are its evils? I know

a man who has been hunting, and

he is not so wise as George

Stephenson, and he has not

had an opportunity to get an

appointment to a pumping

engine for twelve shillings a week,

and for life, said, "I will not

work for less than £100 a week."

Now, what are the causes of laziness

and what are its evils? I know

a man who has been hunting, and

he is not so wise as George

Stephenson, and he has not

had an opportunity to get an

appointment to a pumping

engine for twelve shillings a week,

and for life, said, "I will not

work for less than £100 a week."

Now, what are the causes of laziness

and what are its evils? I know

a man who has been hunting, and

he is not so wise as George

Stephenson, and he has not

had an opportunity to get an

appointment to a pumping

engine for twelve shillings a week,

and for life, said, "I will not

work for less than £100 a week."

Now, what are the causes of laziness

and what are its evils? I know

a man who has been hunting, and

he is not so wise as George

Stephenson, and he has not

had an opportunity to get an

appointment to a pumping

engine for twelve shillings a week,

and for life, said, "I will not

work for less than £100 a week."

Now, what are the causes of laziness

and what are its evils? I know

a man who has been hunting, and

he is not so wise as George

Stephenson, and he has not

had an opportunity to get an

appointment to a pumping

engine for twelve shillings a week,

and for life, said, "I will not

work for less than £100 a week."

Now, what are the causes of laziness

and what are its evils? I know

a man who has been hunting, and

he is not so wise as George

Stephenson, and he has not

had an opportunity to get an

appointment to a pumping

engine for twelve shillings a week,

and for life, said, "I will not

work for less than £100 a week."

Now, what are the causes of laziness

and what are its evils? I know

a man who has been hunting, and

he is not so wise as George

Stephenson, and he has not

had an opportunity to get an

appointment to a pumping

engine for twelve shillings a week,

and for life, said, "I will not

work for less than £100 a week."

Now, what are the causes of laziness

and what are its evils? I know

a man who has been hunting, and

he is not so wise as George

Stephenson, and he has not

had an opportunity to get an

appointment to a pumping

engine for twelve shillings a week,

and for life, said, "I will not

work for less than £100 a week."

Now, what are the causes of laziness

and what are its evils? I know

a man who has been hunting, and

he is not so wise as George

Stephenson, and he has not

had an opportunity to get an

appointment to a pumping

engine for twelve shillings a week,

and for life, said, "I will not

work for less than £100 a week."

Now, what are the causes of laziness

and what are its evils? I know

a man who has been hunting, and

he is not so wise as George

Stephenson, and he has not

had an opportunity to get an

appointment to a pumping

engine for twelve shillings a week,

and for life, said, "I will not

work for less than £100 a week."

Now, what are the causes of laziness

and what are its evils? I know

a man who has been hunting, and

he is not so wise as George

Stephenson, and he has not

had an opportunity to get an

appointment to a pumping

engine for twelve shillings a week,

and for life, said, "I will not

work for less than £100 a week."

Now, what are the causes of laziness

and what are its evils? I know

a man who has been hunting, and

he is not so wise as George

Stephenson, and he has not

had an opportunity to get an

appointment to a pumping

engine for twelve shillings a week,

and for life, said, "I will not

work for less than £100 a week."

Now, what are the causes of laziness

and what are its evils? I know

a man who has been hunting, and

he is not so wise as George

Stephenson, and he has not

had an opportunity to get an

appointment to a pumping

engine for twelve shillings a week,

and for life, said, "I will not

work for less than £100 a week."

Now, what are the causes of laziness

and what are its evils? I know

a man who has been hunting, and

he is not so wise as George

Stephenson, and he has not

had an opportunity to get an

appointment to a pumping

engine for twelve shillings a week,

and for life, said, "I will not

work for less than £100 a week."

Now, what are the causes of laziness

and what are its evils? I know

a man who has been hunting, and

he is not so wise as George

Stephenson, and he has not

had an opportunity to get an

appointment to a pumping

engine for twelve shillings a week,

and for life, said, "I will not

work for less than £100 a week."

Now, what are the causes of laziness

and what are its evils? I know

a man who has been hunting, and

he is not so wise as George

Stephenson, and he has not

had an opportunity to get an

appointment to a pumping

engine for twelve shillings a week,

and for life, said, "I will not

work for less than £100 a week."

Now, what are the causes of laziness

and what are its evils? I know

a man who has been hunting, and

he is not so wise as George

Stephenson, and he has not

had an opportunity to get an

appointment to a pumping

engine for twelve shillings a week,

and for life, said, "I will not

work for less than £100 a week."

Now, what are the causes of laziness

and what are its evils? I know

a man who has been hunting, and

he is not so wise as George

Stephenson, and he has not

had an opportunity to get an

appointment to a pumping